

Pour-Over Will of Maya Chen

Synthetic fixture with intentional trust identity mismatch

Article One. Pour-over residue

I, Maya Chen, leave the residue of my estate to the trustee of the Maya Chen Living Trust dated May 21, 2016, including later amendments and restatements. This trust name and trust date intentionally do not match the trust instrument in the packet.

Article Two. Executor appointments

Daniel Chen is nominated as executor. If Daniel Chen cannot serve, Maya Chen's sister Elena Park is nominated as alternate executor. The executor may transfer property to the trustee after death and may execute assignments needed to complete the pour-over.

Article Three. Property and prenup silence

The pour-over will does not restate separate property funding limitations, community property classification, reimbursement rights, or prenuptial agreement transfer constraints. It says all residue should pass to the trust without a property-character legend.
