

Prenuptial Agreement of Maya Chen and Daniel Chen

Synthetic fixture preserving separate property and transfer limits

Article One. Separate property classifications

Maya Chen's premarital Solara AI Inc. founder shares, appreciation, dividends, and sale proceeds remain Maya Chen's separate property. Daniel Chen's Westlake brokerage account remains Daniel Chen's separate property. The Palo Alto residence is community property unless a signed transmutation states otherwise.

Article Two. Spousal waivers and reimbursement

Each spouse waives claims against the other spouse's separate property except as provided in the disclosure exhibits. Community contributions to separate property create reimbursement rights. The waiver language does not waive fiduciary duties created by a later trust, power of attorney, or health care directive.

Article Three. Transfer and gifting limits

Gifts, transfers, retitling, and trust funding should not alter separate property or community property classification unless the transfer document expressly states the intended effect and both spouses consent in writing.
